The primary area of administration and the most financially consuming of Curling Canada's responsibilities are championships. On an annual basis, Curling Canada sanctions and conducts 17 national curling championship events. Approximately 10,000 competitive curlers from all provinces and territories enter play at the curling club level with the hopes of becoming one of the Canadian Champions crowned annually. The Canadian Curling Championships are:

In addition to these Canadian Curling Championships, Curling Canada is also responsible for the following events:

Tim Hortons Canadian Curling Trials

3. Economic Impact Assessment

The following key benefits have been associated with the event:

- Potential regional broadcast or streaming coverage for the Host Committee to leverage.
- The Host Committee retains 100% of all ticket sales revenue and local sponsorship sales.

- The rights and profits to any 50/50 draws during the course of the event are 100% retained by the Host Committee.
- A legacy from the event can be established for the benefit of curling in the region.
- Volunteer development and capacity enhancement for future events.
- 56 athletes, 7 officials.
- Economic impact, as reported by previous host cities and EI assessments, is approximately $400,000.
- Hotel rooms booked by Curling Canada (not including fans/supporters) = 280 room nights

4. History of the Canadian Mixed

The Canadian Mixed Curling Championship began in 1964 in Toronto and was held at the Royal Canadian Curling Club. At that time, Carling O'Keefe Brewery was the event sponsor and remained so through the 1971 edition. In 1972 the Canadian Curling Association temporarily took over as the sponsor, but starting in 1973, Seagram Distillers came on board as the new title sponsor, after deciding to shift its existing curling sponsorship from the Senior's Men's championship to the Mixed. Seagram would remain the sponsor through 1983.

From 1984-1994, the CCA once again assumed sponsorship of the Mixed, which was normally held in late March, one of the final events in the Canadian championship calendar. In 1995, some significant changes took place to the Mixed, which was staged that year in Sarnia. Unitel became the title sponsor and the event, now held in January, became the first one in the new 'Season of Champions', a marketing concept involving all of the televised Canadian and world curling championships.

Unitel sponsored the Mixed in 1995 and 1996, before its parent company, AT&T took over for the 1997 and 1998 editions. The CCA assumed sponsorship of the national championship once again in 1999.

In 2008, the city of Iqaluit in Nunavut staged the 2009 Canadian Mixed. It was the first time that the territory of Nunavut had hosted a national sporting championship of any kind.

Currently, Alberta has won a leading ten Canadian Mixed titles followed by Saskatchewan with nine, then Manitoba with eight wins. However, every province, plus Northern Ontario, has won at least one Mixed since 1964.

All of these outstanding competitions were valid offspring of the Brier. All adopted the same format. All provided yearly-and worthy-champions. All are a part of Canada's curling history.
