BEAU WELLING of the United States has made a rapid climb up the ladder in international curling.

As a late-to-the-game fan of the sport, the American has been re-elected to his second term as president of World Curling. He replaced President Kate Caithness CBE in 2022 at the conclusion of her 12-year term of office.

Welling is the 11th president World Curling and is the second president from the U.S., following Dr. Donald F. Barcome from 1988–1990.

Welling was elected as a board member of World Curling in 2018, with his original four-year term concluding in 2022.

Welling was the chair of the Structural Review Group and prior to his time with World Curling was an independent board director of the United States Curling Association from 2007 until 2018.

Welling, a golfer, came into the sport of curling in a rather unconventional way. He first saw the sport on television and was immediately drawn to the other Scottish sport. Ultimately, he visited a U.S. national championship in person which then led him to being asked to become an independent director. Years later, he became a curler himself, founding the Palmetto Curling Club in Greenville, S.C.

"I was fascinated watching the sport on television and was able to learn a lot quickly from one of my golf colleagues who grew up in Northern Ontario," recalled Welling. "Curling is a strategic game that fits my brain. I have a degree in physics so that aspect of the sport was interesting to me, as well as the fact that golf and curling come out of the same Scottish ether."

Welling is looking forward to executing and building on World Curling's nine initiatives that were developed following the constitution of the new Board at the World Curling Congress in 2024.

"Curling is at its best when we're organized, focused and working together toward common goals and objectives," Welling said. "I'm excited about the direction we're moving, the meaningful change happening and new opportunities ahead, while humbled to continue serving our sport's special community of people."

Welling is the Founder and CEO of Beau Welling Design, a golf course design and land-planning firm based in Greenville, S.C.

WORLD CURLING

World Curling is the world governing body of the Olympic winter sport of curling and the Paralympic winter sport of wheelchair curling. Originally founded in 1966 as the International Curling Federation, it initially changed its name to the World Curling Federation in 1990. Following a brand refresh and modernisation in 2024, it changed its name to World Curling.

Today, World Curling is managed by a Board, consisting of a President, two Vice-Presidents and seven Directors, which includes the Athlete Commission Chair and two independent directors. They are elected by World Curling's Member Associations and are supported by staff based at the headquarters in Perth, Scotland and around the world.

CURLING CANADA 2026-27
BOARD OF GOVERNORS

A NEW CHAIR FOR THE 2026-27 SEASON has been elected by Curling Canada's Board of Governors.

Kerry Tarasoff of Saskatoon, the former Chief Financial Officer for the City of Saskatoon and a former Board member, replaces outgoing chair Teri Palynchuk of Nanaimo, B.C., who completed her four-year term (2022-2026).

Meanwhile, three new faces will bring their perspectives to Curling Canada's Board following votes at its Annual General Meeting.

The national governing body for the sport of curling held its virtual AGM with Canada's 13 Member Associations along with invited guests speaking about the past season, in addition to conducting elections to finalize the Board of Governors for the new season.

The first-year governors will be Dale MacMillan of Ottawa, David Blair of Woodbridge, Ont., and Charlotte Wang of Toronto. MacMillan and Blair will take on four-year terms with the Board of Governors, while Wang will have a one-year term, taking the place of Roselle Gonsalves of Porters Lake, N.S., who is leaving the Board for her new position with the World Curling Board of Directors, to which she was elected earlier.

One other election saw Jennifer Howard of Courtice, Ont., re-elected to the Board for another four-year term.

Besides Gonsalves and Palynchuk, Ray Baker of Dauphin, Man., is departing the Board after completing his term.

Howard, MacMillan, Blair and Wang will join fellow Board members Rob Belliveau of Halifax, Jeremy Woo of Winnipeg, Scott Hindle of Ottawa, Jody Fisher Meli of Lethbridge, Alta., and Rémy St-Pierre of Québec City.

The Curling Canada Athlete Advisory Council (AAC) has determined its composition for the 2026-27 season, and will have input and a consultative role with Curling Canada's governors, as well as Curling Canada's Events and High Performance staff.

The AAC has representation at Board of Governors meetings and will be able to speak at meetings. Matt Dunstone will serve as AAC Chair, with Brett Gallant as Vice-Chair. Other members are Karl Allen, Shannon Birchard, Kim Bonneau, Brendan Bottcher, Jenna Campbell, Zoe Cinnamon, Jacques Gauthier, Owen Henry, Kayla MacMillan, Emma Miskew, Chrissy Molnar and Sam Mooibroek.

The AAC comprises team-nominated representatives from men's and women's four-player curling, mixed doubles, NextGen and wheelchair curling programs — all of whom must be members of Curling Canada's National Team Program.

Curling involves a lot of hand and arm action, and that was certainly evident at the 2025 Montana's Canadian Trials in Halifax. Team Einarson's Karlee Burgess (above) made her hands do the talking on some of her deliveries while Rachel Homan (inset) had to sweat it out with several tight games, including Game 1 final, before carrying her team to victory and a trip to the Olympic Games. And Geri-Lynn Ramsay (top) was well-armed for action playing third for Team Skrlik.

A late-game comeback etched Canada's Team Kerri Einarson into Scotties Tournament of Hearts history in Mississauga, Ont. Team Canada skip Kerri Einarson captured a fifth career Scotties title after defeating Team Manitoba-Lawes 4-3 in the gold-medal final. The victory marked a record-tying six Scotties titles for second Shannon Birchard. She won her first playing third for Manitoba's Jennifer Jones in 2018, then added five more with Team Einarson. She is tied with Jones, Colleen Jones and Jill Officer for most titles. The Gimli, Man.-based team of (L-R): Einarson, vice-skip Val Sweeting, Birchard, and lead Karlee Burgess went on win silver at the BKT World Women's Curling Championship.

You couldn't blame skip Kerri Einarson for being a bit giddy after winning her fifth Canadian Women's Curling Championship. Einarson's needed to make a Hail Mary long angle-raise takeout with her last rock of the 10th end to tie, then steal a single in the extra end to get the job done.

Manitoba's Kaitlyn Lawes was right into body language after thowing her stone at the Tournament of Hearts.

Team Nunavut won a game and was plenty happy about it. Nova Scotia's Taylour Stevens was happy, too, with a strong showing with her all-rookie Tournament of Hearts team, making the six-team playoffs in a strong field.

Rasmus and Isabella Wranå of Sweden came through in the clutch to snatch the gold medal in Olympic mixed doubles curling.

It started fine, and it finished with a victory, but was the middle of the schedule that ultimately proved the difference for Canada's Jocelyn Peterman (left) and Brett Gallant at the 2026 Winter Olympics. The Chestermere, Alta., tandem, with team coach Laine Peters and national coach Scott Pfeifer, finished the round robin with a 4-5 record for a fifth-place finish in the 10-team standings — just outside of the four-team playoffs.

FRANCES BRODIE AWARD

Yoshida Chinami, who throws third stones for Team Japan, was awarded the Frances Brodie Award at the 2026 BKT World Women's Curling Championship. The award winner is selected annually by competitors in the World Women's Curling Championship as the player who best combines playing ability with sportsmanship. The award was named in honour of Scotland's Frances Brodie, one of curling's pioneering women. Brodie helped establish the women's world championship and chaired the first event in Perth, Scotland, in 1979.

Japan's vice-skip Yoshida Chinami receives the Francis Brodie Award from chief umpire Brett Waldroff.

Serena Gray-Withers and Victor Pietrangelo won the 2026 Canadian Mixed Doubles Curling Championship after defeating Zoe Cinnamon and Johnson Tao in dramatic, comeback fashion. The Alberta/Ontario duo clawed their way back after giving up a score of six in the first end, but fought back, completing their comeback with three points in the eighth to win 10-9.

Zoe Cinnamon (left) had a great week at the Canadian Mixed Doubles event in Surrey, B.C., and it ended with a congratulatory hug with teammate Johnson Tao after their silver-medal finish.

Naturally, big-name players like Brendan Bottcher and Rachel Homan (rear) drew spectators whenever they played.

Ontario's Kira Brunton and Alberta's Jason Tao were almost a mirror image of themselves after they delivered their stones.

Québec's Robert Desjardins showed off his prowess with a brush during the competition.

CANADIAN CURLING HALL OF FAME

There is no greater honour in curling than to be selected to the Canadian Curling Hall of Fame. The Hall, operated by Curling Canada, was established with its first inductees in 1973. The selection committee meets annually to choose inductees from four categories: curler, builder, curler/builder and team. Past presidents of Curling Canada are automatically inducted into the Hall of Fame as part of the Executive Honour Roll.

American Welling will carry on for another term as president of World Curling World Curling president Beau Welling has won reelection as president of the global curling organization.

The 55-year-old golf architect defeated a challenge from former two-time World Curling vice-president Hugh Millikin of Australia at the World Curling Congress vote in Bratislava, Slovakia.

Welling replaced President Kate Caithness CBE in 2022 at the conclusion of her 12-year term of office.

Welling is the 11th president of World Curling and is the second president from the U.S., following Dr. Donald F. Barcome from 1988–1990.

He is credited with lifting mixed doubles into prominence at the Olympic Games.

Welling is the Founder and CEO of Beau Welling Design, a golf course design and land-planning firm based in Greenville, S.C.

Canada's Roselle Gonsalves was elected as a World Curling director at the Congress.

BEAU WELLING

Meanwhile, a new rule on double-touching a delivered curling stone has been adopted. World Curling now explicitly says touching the granite at any time after the stone is put into play will result in it being removed.

The new rule will come into effect starting this season.

Curling Canada announced it will fully align itself with the new standards after a reduction in key differences between the organizations over the last few years.

The timing is right, according to Curling Canada Chief Executive Officer Nolan Thiessen, noting that the number of principal differences between Canadian and World regulations has shrunk.

"I think for us it was just a situation where we said, 'Look, there's not a lot of benefit to us trying to do this on our own,' " said Thiessen.

Sweden's Niklas Edin has decided to step away from the game after a brilliant career on the ice.

The double-touch rule will apply to four-player teams. Starting this season, four-player teams will need to be exactly that, with new, stricter regulations insisting that each team start with four players at the beginning of a game, and if they cannot, the match is forfeited.

Teams must continue as a foursome throughout the game, with an exception — if one of the four needs to leave the game at any time, the affected team can play as three for up to two full, consecutive ends. After that, the exiting player would need to return or an alternate would have to be pressed into action or, again, the game would be forfeited.

There were developments away from the rules committees, too. Eight-time world men's champion skip Niklas Edin of Sweden dropped a bombshell when he announced he is stepping away from the game while on top. The 40-year-old future Hall of Famer captured an Olympic gold medal of every colour, winning bronze in 2014, silver in 2018 and gold in 2022.

He plans to remain active in the sport.

Teams were in the break-up mode in Canada because it's that time of year again. Post Olympics, several teams head back to the drawing board and start planning for the next Olympic cycle.

Just five days after winning silver at the 2026 World Women's Curling Championship, Kerri Einarson of Gimli, Man., shook up her team lineup.

Longtime third Val Sweeting is out, along with alternate Krysten Karwacki and coach Reid Carruthers.

Sweeting eventually joined forces with Victoria-based Team Kayla MacMillan.

Two-time Olympic gold-medal winner Kaitlyn Lawes of Winnipeg also announced she is stepping away from the game for one year, at least. Lawes returned to skipping in 2022 after spending 12 years playing third for Jennifer Jones, winning an Olympic gold and a world championship. She also won an Olympic gold with John Morris in mixed doubles.

It was also announced in September that Canadian curling greats Glenn Howard and Team Randy Ferbey are heading into the World Curling Hall of Fame.

Randy Ferbey is already a member of the World Curling Hall of Fame, and now his longtime teammates get to join him. The team, known as the Ferby Four, consisted of (L-R): Ferbey, Scott Pfeifer, Dave Nedohin, and Marcel Rocque.

Howard, 64, won gold in all four of his appearances at the world men's championship, twice playing third for his brother, Russ, a 2015 Hall inductee, and twice as a skip.

The Edmonton-based Ferbey Four won four Brier championships in five years and three world titles during a dominant run in the early 2000s.

Vice-skip David Nedohin, second Scott Pfeifer and lead Marcel Rocque will join skip Randy Ferbey, who was inducted individually in 2014, with the foursome becoming just the sixth complete team to enter the Hall.

It was a season to remember for Ontario curlers, and it resulted in historic results.

Curling Ontario swept all three of Curling Canada's annual Member Association season-long Cup competitions — the MA Cup, Governors' Cup and For the Love of Curling Cup — the first time it's happened since the awards were established.

Each of the 14 Member Association earns points based on the performance of its respective provincial/territorial championship-winning teams from the 15 national championship events that are either operated by, or sanctioned by, Curling Canada.

Those include the Montana's Brier; the Scotties Tournament of Hearts; the New Holland Canadian Under-20 Men's and Women's Championships; the Canadian Under-18 Championships; the Canadian Senior Men's and Women's Championships; the Canadian Curling Club Men's and Women's Championships; the Canadian Mixed Championship; the Canadian Mixed Doubles Championship; the Canadian Wheelchair Championship; and the Canadian Masters (60 and over) Men's and Women's Championships.

DARRYL NEIGHBOUR

On a sad note, Curling Canada, the National Wheelchair Curling Program, and the curling community mourn the loss of a wheelchair curling inspiration. Canadian, world and Paralympic champion Darryl Neighbour died in August at the age of 78 in Richmond, B.C.

Neighbour was part of one of Canada's most dominant strings of success in wheelchair curling, earning gold in international competition for three consecutive years, playing third for skip Jim Armstrong. Neighbour won gold for Canada at the 2010 Paralympic Winter Games in Vancouver and at the world championships in 2009 and '11.

FOR THE LOVE OF CURLING SCHOLARSHIPS

Twenty young curlers from across the country have been selected as recipients of Curling Canada's youth scholarships for 2026.

Ten curlers received the For the Love of Curling Scholarship, intended for young Canadian student-athletes who excel in curling, maintain strong academic standing and demonstrate a strong commitment to their communities.

Another 10 curlers are being recognized with the Fran Todd All Heart Scholarship for Canadian student-athletes who embody the values of curling, prioritize giving back to the sport and are passionate about sharing curling with their communities.

"The Curling Canada scholarship program is about recognizing the strength of our sport—our people," said Brodie Bazinet, Director of Philanthropy and Youth Impacts at Curling Canada. "Across both scholarship streams, we look for well-rounded curlers who demonstrate leadership, commitment and a passion for making a positive impact both on and off the ice. These are the qualities that strengthen our sport and our communities, and we're proud to invest in the next generation of curlers as they pursue their goals. We're also incredibly grateful to the donors and partners who make this investment possible."

The Governor General's Curling Club, an honourary society under the patronage of the Governor General of Canada since 1874, is very pleased to once again partner with Curling Canada and the For the Love of Curling scholarship program to fund, select and present two of the 20 annual scholarships.

"For more than 150 years, many of those who have served curling with significant leadership, distinction and achievement, locally, provincially, nationally and/or internationally, have been inductees into the Governor General's Curling Club. Our members are proud to support these aspiring scholar-athletes and their efforts for curling excellence, academic success, volunteerism and to become the next generation of leaders for our sport," said Pat Reid, Chair of the Governor General's Curling Club Scholarship Committee. "Congratulations to our selectees, Nicholas Codner of Newfoundland & Labrador and Katrina Frlan of Ontario and indeed to all the winners of the For the Love of Curling and Fran Todd All-Heart Scholarships."

Eighteen of the For the Love of Curling and Fran Todd All-Heart scholarships are valued at $2,500. This year, the Governor General's Curling Club has increased the value of its scholarships to $3,500 each.

With the two $3,500 scholarships awarded to Codner and Frlan, the Governor General's Curling Club has invested $26,255 in young curling athletes as a valued partner of Curling Canada's scholarship program.

Codner and Frlan were honoured and presented with their scholarships in their hometowns of St. John's, N.L., and Ottawa, respectively, by Governor General's Curling Club members from their communities. Those presentations were also shared with the Governor General's Curling Club national membership at its annual gala in Victoria.

The scholarships awarded to Dylan Derksen, Tyler Derksen, Megan Blandford and Karstin Soucy are funded by a new legacy gift from the Estate of Maureen Secord, honouring the lifelong love of curling shared by Maureen and her husband, James Bayne Secord.

Since the scholarship program's launch in 2014, Curling Canada has awarded 179 scholarships to young curlers nationwide, helping offset educational costs while encouraging continued participation in the sport.

Curling Canada's For the Love of Curling philanthropic program, was introduced during the 2013-14 season to help develop and grow youth and junior curling across Canada.
